

Hey! 🙌 I wanted to share something really meaningful with you.

We just launched a Snazzy Community Raise on WeFunder — it's a way for friends, family, and early supporters to invest alongside us as we build Snazzy.

One important note: we need to raise the first $50K to unlock full visibility on WeFunder so the campaign is shown to investors all over the world. This early momentum is huge for us.

The minimum investment is $100, so even small contributions help push us over that first milestone. And if investing isn't your thing, simply sharing the link means a lot too.

Here's the page if you want to check it out:

No pressure at all — just grateful for your support and for being part of this journey 🥂
