Stacy Demetri

Created by a Creator to be creative.
United States

Summary

I'm a creative at heart with a passion for marketing, storytelling, and bringing ideas to life. I've planned and executed programs and events that build connection, strengthen community, and create memorable experiences.

I enjoy the full process — from brainstorming and strategy to coordination and delivery. Whether working independently or collaborating with a team, I'm motivated by projects that require both imagination and thoughtful execution.
