Disrupting a $690 Billion Market¹

The Clarity Problem

From Cultural Noise to Competitive Advantage

RAD Intel turns large-scale audience data into proprietary decision infrastructure. As usage grows, insights compound—driving performance, retention, and long-term enterprise value.

The Reputation Problem

Protecting Brand Equity at Scale

In today's fragmented media landscape, brand safety is a material risk. RAD Intel embeds safety controls into its AI decision engine, helping Fortune 1000 clients drive performance while protecting brand integrity.

The Attention Problem

Turning Cultural Signals Into ROI

Signal Intelligence Detects the cultural moments that move markets, not the noise that distracts brands. It tells companies what matters and how to act. For investors, it is scalable decision infrastructure that strengthens competitive advantage over time.
