

REGULATION CROWDFUNDING · NOW ON HIGHLANDER

KNOW BEFORE YOU TRAIN.

COR5 is a dual-mode handheld + wearable performance system that actively measures physiological response before, during, and after training — interpreted against each athlete's personal baseline. Now raising to scale manufacturing and convert signed LOIs covering 9,000 units into commercial orders.

THE OPPORTUNITY

Most wearables give you a score.
COR5 measures how you respond.

Passive wearables are built for continuous monitoring. COR5 adds active testing: a repeatable Test → Train → Re-test loop using synchronized multi-signal measurements and each athlete's personal baseline.

Passive monitoring

Continuous background tracking

Clean activity and recovery trends

Passive monitoring

- Continuous background tracking
- Sleep, activity and recovery trends
- Designed to monitor over time
- Useful context, but no defined Test → Train → Re-test protocol

VERSUS

Active testing

- ✓ ECG + PPG + BIA + skin temperature + IMU
- ✓ 60+ physiological & performance metrics
- ✓ Test before training
- ✓ Monitor response during training
- ✓ Re-test recovery afterward
- ✓ Interpreted against your personal baseline

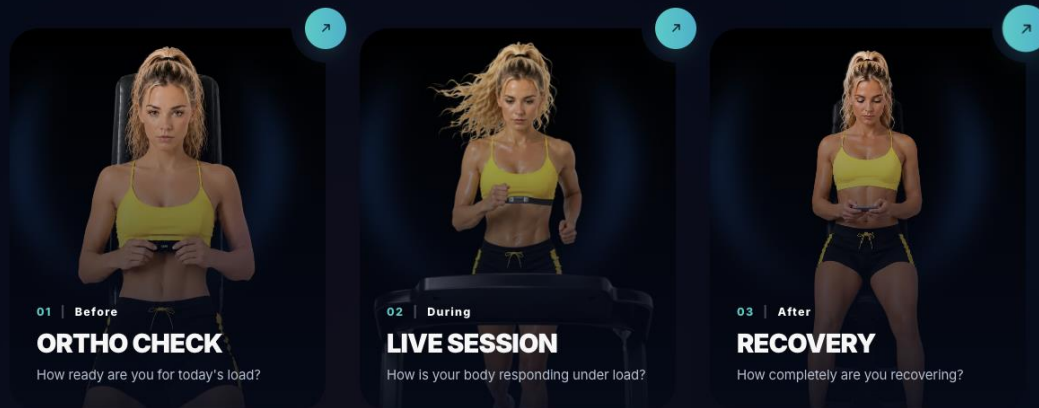

BIOMEDICAL • THERMAL • SKIN TEMP • MOTION • IMU • LORAWAN • FIELD SPORTS MODE • COACH DASHBOARD •

THE PROTOCOL

Three checkpoints. One complete picture.

Explore Training ARC

THE DEVICE

Five sensing modalities. One synchronized read.

COR5 synchronizes five sensing modalities in one platform, so performance insights are built from measured physiological data.

HARDWARE

Multi-signal capture in a device that fits in one hand.

- ✓ Dual-mode. Handheld for tests, wearable chest position for live sessions.
- ✓ Purpose-built signal acquisition for active physiological testing.
- ✓ Three ways to connect: onboard capture, Bluetooth LE, and LoRaWAN.
- ✓ FCC / CE certification in progress. Wellness device — not for diagnosis.

THE SOFTWARE

60+ metrics. Personalized to you.

Readiness, recovery, cardiovascular response, training load, body status, thermal response and more — interpreted against your own history and personal baseline.

DEFENSIBILITY

The moat isn't just the sensor.
It's the system and the longitudinal data it creates.

Synchronized sensing, repeatable active tests, personal baselines and longitudinal history compound over time. Each completed protocol adds a time-aligned, multi-signal record under known conditions.

- ✓ Signal analysis turns synchronized physiological data into 60+ physiological and performance metrics, with AI supporting history-aware interpretation.

- ✓ Longitudinal baselines increase the value of the system as more athlete history is collected.
- ✓ Privacy as positioning. Encrypted in transit and at rest. Users can export their data and request deletion subject to applicable retention requirements. COR5 does not sell personal or physiological data.

WHERE THE REVENUE CONCENTRATES

One athlete is a subscription. One squad is a contract.

Field Sports Mode is designed to connect athlete sessions to a coach dashboard, with optional LoRaWAN connectivity for team environments and per-athlete readiness, training load and reporting.

- ✓ $299-$399 per athlete / year on annual team contracts.
- ✓ 8 pilot programs underway.
- ✓ NBA, NFL, NHL and MLS conversations active, plus multiple college programs.

TRACTION

Signed LOIs demonstrate early commercial demand.

This raise is about converting signed LOIs and active pilots into purchase orders and shipped units.

Target commercial availability: Q4 2026

Pre-orders are live now — early bird at $199 for the first 500 units against a $299 launch price.

Hardware + recurring

A device-led entry point pulling athletes onto $179–$499/yr subscriptions and team contracts.

Category timing

Recovery and readiness went mainstream on passive data. COR5 arrives with the active test that market is now asking for.
