Hi friends!

For twelve years, people have asked me how they can be part of what we're building at EpiBone — patients, clinicians, friends who believed in growing living bone and cartilage before it was obvious. Until now, there was never a way in unless you were a fund or an accredited investor.

That's changing. EpiBone's community round is coming to WeFunder, and our page is live in preview now:

You're hearing it here first — follow the page today and you'll be notified the moment the round formally opens: <https://lnkd.in/gT52AusZ>

This is the part of the journey I'm proudest of: opening the door to the people who cared first.
