— WHY INVEST —

One universe. Every way people already spend their time.

Most entertainment startups bet everything on a single format. Paraland Realms builds one deep, interconnected world and monetizes it across streaming, gaming, and physical product — so every story asset works three times over.

Industry-veteran leadership

Founder Patrick McCarthy has spent 7 years at Family Guy, and amassed millions of views on previous fantasy-based animations.

Three revenue surfaces

Streaming series, a VR monster-collecting RPG, and a collectible strategy game — each introduced to audiences inside the show itself.

Partners already in place

Yukaimo Masters is in development with VR studio partner Impact Inked, alongside a credited roster of eighteen-plus contributing creatives.

THE EXPLAINER

Why we're raising, in Patrick's own words

PATRICK MCCARTHY, FOUNDER · 2:45

Paraland is a parallel to our own world.

The characters of the show are all parallels to the people in the life of the creator, Patrick McCarthy. The story of moving to LA in the pursuit of becoming a creator of his own animated series gets retold as a King of a fantasy world where the gods have a twisted sense of humor — and keeping the nation safe carries the added burden of competing against absolute monsters for the throne.

Part comedy, part action, and a whole lot of world mystery. From a fantasy standpoint it's a deep dive into how twelve very different races of people would truly navigate a world of diversity. From the comedy side, Karma is a Karacter — and it has a wicked sense of humor. Anything the characters say or do could have cosmic-level impact on how they deal with situations in the near or extremely distant future.
