PicMii does not make investment recommendations and no communication through this website or in any other medium should be construed as a recommendation for any security offered on or off this investment platform. Equity crowdfunding investments in private placements, Regulation A, D and CF offerings, and start-up investments in particular are speculative and involve a high degree of risk and those investors who cannot afford to lose their entire investment should not invest in start-ups. Companies seeking startup investments through equity crowdfunding tend to be in earlier stages of development and their business model, products and services may not yet be fully developed, operational or tested in the public marketplace. There is no guarantee that the stated valuation and other terms are accurate or in agreement with the market or industry valuations. Additionally, investors may receive illiquid and/or restricted stock that may be subject to holding period requirements and/or liquidity concerns. In the most sensible investment strategy for start-up investing, start-ups should only be part of your overall investment portfolio. Further, the start-up portion of your portfolio may include a balanced portfolio of different start-ups. Investments in startups are highly illiquid and those investors who cannot hold an investment for the long term (at least 5-7 years) should not invest.

Business and Anticipated Business Plan

How It Started

Paraland began with a vision to create an original animated series built around an expansive fictional universe with the depth and storytelling potential to support multiple forms of entertainment. Following seven years of experience working on Family Guy, the Company's founder developed an understanding of what makes an animated series sustainable over time: the strength of its underlying world, the depth of its characters, and the ability to continually introduce new stories and experiences within that universe.

That vision led to the creation of Paraland, a fantasy world that exists parallel to our own. At the center of the story is a character who arrives in an unfamiliar place, unexpectedly finds himself given a crown he may not be prepared to wear, and discovers a world in which even the gods have a sense of humor. Many of the major characters are inspired by real people in the founder's life, giving them distinct personalities, relationships, and motivations that contribute to the authenticity of the storytelling.

What Paraland Is

Paraland is an expansive fantasy universe consisting of twelve distinct fantasy races inhabiting a shared continent. Each race has its own history, culture, identity, and visual design, with elements that draw parallels to real-world cultures.

The franchise combines comedy, action, and long-form mystery. One of its central concepts is that Karma exists as an actual force within the fictional world and is represented as a character with its own personality and sense of humor. Events and dialogue introduced early in the story can have significant consequences much later in the narrative, allowing the Company to develop interconnected storylines and build continuity across multiple seasons.

The Company has spent several years developing the underlying universe, including its characters, histories, designs, and storylines. This foundational intellectual property is intended to serve as the basis for multiple entertainment products, allowing the animated series, video games, and tabletop games to exist within the same interconnected fictional universe rather than as unrelated projects.

Why the Company Is Developing Three Products Simultaneously

Many independent animation companies focus primarily on developing a single series and pursuing distribution or production opportunities. Paraland is pursuing a broader strategy by developing three interconnected entertainment products simultaneously. This approach is intended to create multiple potential revenue streams while allowing each product to strengthen the others.

- The Animated Series: The animated series serves as the flagship product and primary introduction to the Paraland universe. Combining comedy, action, and an overarching mystery, the series is designed to introduce audiences to the characters, world, and stories that form the foundation of the franchise.
- Yukaimo Masters: Yukaimo Masters is a virtual reality (VR) monster-collecting role-playing game (RPG) in which players take on the role of a Yukeeper and explore the Paraland universe. The Company is developing the game in collaboration with its VR development partner, Impact Inked.

- Vizwar Champions: Vizwar Champions is a strategy-based collectible game that exists within the fictional world of Paraland as a game played by the characters themselves. The Company is bringing this concept into the real world as a collectible tabletop game.

An important component of the Company's strategy is integrating both games directly into episodes of the animated series. Rather than relying exclusively on traditional advertising to introduce the games, audiences will be able to see the characters interacting with and playing the games within the show's storyline. This approach is intended to create a natural connection between the animated series and the Company's gaming products, while allowing characters, designs, and other intellectual property to be utilized across multiple products.

Business Model and Revenue Opportunities

The Company intends to generate revenue through four primary channels:

1. Animated Series Licensing and Distribution: Licensing or distributing the Paraland animated series through television networks, streaming platforms, and other distribution channels.
2. Yukaimo Masters: Generating revenue through the sale and distribution of Yukaimo Masters via VR gaming storefronts.
3. Vizwar Champions: Selling Vizwar Champions collectible game sets, expansions, and related products directly to consumers and through retail distribution channels.
4. Merchandise and Licensing: Developing and selling merchandise and licensing the Company's characters, designs, and other intellectual property for additional commercial applications.

The Company is currently in the pre-revenue, pre-launch stage. It has not yet generated revenue from these products, and none of the anticipated revenue streams are currently under contract. However, the Company has invested substantial time and resources into developing the underlying intellectual property, character designs, scripts, production materials, and strategic partnerships necessary to advance the franchise. The Company has also completed a short film that has been presented to audiences.

Current Business Progress and Development

The Company has released a short film titled Paraland: The Prologue to introduce audiences to the fictional universe and evaluate audience reception. The film received six awards and official selections during 2024, including:

- Award Winner — Fantasy/Sci-Fi Film Festival, 2024
- Award Winner — IndieX Film Fest, Los Angeles, June 2024
- Finalist — Palm Springs International Trailer Contest, 2024
- Official Selection — Burbank International Film Festival, 2024
- Official Selection — Screen W.A.R.P. London Sci-Fi & Fantasy Film Fest + Cosplay, 2024
- Official Selection — Momoxca Fantastic Film Festival, 2024

In addition to the short film, the Company has recorded its animated series pilot with a cast that it intends to announce at a later date. The Company's writing team is completing the first season, titled Season of Doom. The designs for all twelve fantasy races, including their corresponding race sigils, have been completed and published. Vizwar Champions has also undergone playtesting.

More than eighteen credited individuals have contributed to the development of the Paraland universe alongside the Company's founder. The founder's previous independent animation projects, including an independently produced Game of Thrones prequel series, have generated viral online engagement and millions of views. This experience has provided the founder with experience developing animated content and reaching audiences through digital distribution channels.

Target Markets and Industry Opportunities

The Company intends to participate in three entertainment markets: animation, virtual reality gaming, and collectible trading card and tabletop games. Each market represents a substantial industry with opportunities for continued growth.

According to market research cited by the Company:

- Animation: The global animation market is estimated at approximately $492 billion in 2026 and is projected to reach approximately $953 billion by 2035, according to Precedence Research.
- Virtual Reality Gaming: The global VR gaming market is estimated at approximately $38 billion in 2026 and is projected to reach approximately $260 billion by 2034, according to Fortune Business Insights.
- Trading Card Games: The global trading card game market is estimated at approximately $9.2 billion in 2026 and is projected to reach approximately $17 billion by 2035, according to Global Market Insights.

These figures represent the overall addressable industries and are not projections of the Company's anticipated revenue or market share.

The Company's strategy is based in part on the potential overlap between these audiences. Consumers interested in animated fantasy content may also have an interest in monster-collecting video games, collectible card games, and related merchandise. By developing three interconnected products within a single fictional universe, the Company intends to build an audience that can engage with and purchase multiple products rather than having to independently acquire customers for three unrelated businesses.

Industry Comparables and Competitive Landscape

The Company recognizes that it operates in competitive entertainment markets and that several creator-owned entertainment companies have demonstrated the commercial potential of developing original intellectual property and expanding it across multiple distribution channels.

Examples include:

- Glitch Productions: Founded in 2017, Glitch Productions has developed a substantial online audience, reportedly reaching approximately 23.2 million YouTube subscribers and 3.8 billion views. Its animated series, The Amazing Digital Circus, expanded from an independently developed digital production into a Netflix distribution arrangement in 2024. The company has also grown its production team significantly over time.

- Vivienne Medrano / Hazbin Hotel: The creator of Hazbin Hotel initially developed and funded the animated pilot through independent audience support. The project subsequently attracted major entertainment industry partners, including A24 and Amazon.
- Critical Role: Critical Role raised more than $11 million through Kickstarter to develop The Legend of Vox Machina. The animated series was subsequently distributed through Amazon, while the company also expanded its intellectual property into tabletop games and publishing.

These companies demonstrate potential pathways for creator-owned entertainment properties to develop audiences independently and expand into additional commercial opportunities. They also represent competitors for audience attention and consumer spending.

Paraland's strategy differs in that the Company is developing an animated series, a VR video game, and a collectible strategy game as interconnected components of the same intellectual property. By introducing these products through a shared universe and integrating them into the animated series, the Company intends to create multiple opportunities for audience engagement and monetization.

Risk Factors

Investing in the Securities involves a high degree of risk and may result in the loss of your entire investment. Before making an investment decision with respect to the Securities, we urge you to carefully consider the risks described in this section and other factors set forth in this Form C. In addition to the risks specified below, the Company is subject to same risks that all companies in its business, and all companies in the economy, are exposed to. These include risks relating to economic downturns, political and economic events and technological developments (such as hacking and the ability to prevent hacking). Additionally, early-stage companies are inherently riskier than more developed companies. Prospective Investors should consult with their legal, tax and financial advisors prior to making an investment in the Securities. The Securities should only be purchased by persons who can afford to lose all of their investment.

Risks Related to the Company's Business and Industry

We have a limited operating history upon which you can evaluate our performance, and accordingly, our prospects must be considered in light of the risks that any new company encounters. The Company is still in an early phase and we are just beginning to implement our business plan. There can be no assurance that we will ever operate profitably. The likelihood of our success should be considered in light of the problems, expenses, difficulties, complications and delays usually encountered by early-stage companies. The Company may not be successful in attaining the objectives necessary for it to overcome these risks and uncertainties.

Regulatory changes and uncertainties.

The Company operates in a highly regulated industry subject to substantial change. In addition, both its labor and customer base are licensed and regulated by local, state, and federal governments. Policies may be changed for several reasons including, but not limited to economic conditions, public safety, socio-political factors, and such. As policy changes are made by regulators, there is no guarantee that the company will be able to provide services in its current form, which may place a substantial hardship on operations, causing an Investor to lose all or a portion of their investment.

The amount of capital the Company is attempting to raise in this Offering may not be enough to sustain the Company's current business plan.

In order to achieve the Company's near and long-term goals, the Company may need to procure funds in addition to the amount raised in the Offering. There is no guarantee the Company will be able to raise such funds on acceptable terms or at all. If we are not able to raise sufficient capital in the future, we may not be able to execute our business plan, our continued operations may require a significant pivot in strategy and execution, which could cause an Investor to lose all or a portion of their investment.

We may face potential difficulties in obtaining capital

We may have difficulty raising needed capital in the future as a result of, among other factors, our lack of revenue, as well as the inherent business risks associated with our Company and present and future market conditions.

The Company's success depends on the experience and skill of its manager and other key personnel.

In particular, we are dependent on our managers. The loss of the Managers, the Principals or any other key personnel could harm the Company's business, financial condition, cash flow and performance. Accordingly, you should not invest in the Company unless you are willing to entrust all aspects of the management of the Company and the investment decisions we make on the behalf of the Company.

Although dependent on certain key personnel, the Company does not have any key person life insurance policies on any such people

We are dependent on certain key personnel in order to conduct our operations and execute our business plan, however, the Company has not purchased any insurance policies with respect to those individuals in the event of their death or disability. Therefore, if any of these personnel die or become disabled, the Company will not receive any compensation to assist with such person's absence. The loss of such person could negatively affect the Company and our operations. We have no way to guarantee key personnel will stay with the Company, as many states do not enforce non- competition agreements, and therefore acquiring key man insurance will not ameliorate all of the risk of relying on key personnel.

Damage to our reputation could negatively impact our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our reputation and the quality of our brand are critical to our business and success and will be critical to our success as we form and advise new markets. Any incident that erodes confidence in our brand could significantly reduce the Company's value and damage our business. We may be adversely affected by any negative publicity, regardless of its accuracy. Also, there has been a marked increase in the use of social media platforms and similar devices, including blogs, social media websites and other forms of internet-based communications that provide individuals with access to a broad audience. The availability of information on social media platforms is virtually immediate as is its impact. Information posted may be adverse to our interests or may be inaccurate, each of which may harm our performance, prospects or business. The harm may be immediate and may disseminate rapidly and broadly, without affording us an opportunity for redress or correct.

Risks Related to the Offering

The U.S. Securities and exchange Commission does not pass upon the merits of the Securities or the terms of the Offering, nor does it pass upon the accuracy or completeness of any Offering document or literature.

You should not rely on the fact that our Form C is accessible through the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission's EDGAR filing system as an approval, endorsement or guarantee of compliance as it relates to this Offering. The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission has not reviewed this Form C, nor any document or literature related to this Offering.

Neither the Offering nor the Securities have been registered under federal or state securities laws.

No governmental agency has reviewed or passed upon this Offering or the Securities. Neither the Offering nor the Securities have been registered under federal or state securities laws. Investors will not receive any of the benefits available in registered Offerings, which may include access to quarterly and annual financial statements that have been audited by an independent accounting firm. Investors must therefore assess the adequacy of disclosure and the fairness of the terms of this Offering based on the information provided in this Form C and the accompanying exhibits.

The Company's management may have broad discretion in how the Company uses the net proceeds of the Offering.

Unless the Company has agreed to a specific use of the proceeds from the Offering, the Company's management will have considerable discretion over the use of proceeds from the Offering. You may not have the opportunity, as part of your investment decision, to assess whether the proceeds are being used appropriately.

The Company has the right to limit individual Investor commitment amounts based on the Company's determination of an Investor's sophistication.

The Company may prevent any Investor from committing more than a certain amount in this Offering based on the Company's determination of the Investor's sophistication and ability to assume the risk of the investment. This means that your desired investment amount may be limited or lowered based solely on the Company's determination and not in line with relevant investment limits set forth by the Regulation CF rules. This also means that other Investors may receive larger allocations of the Offering based solely on the Company's determination.

The Company has the right to extend the Offering Deadline.

The Company may extend the Offering Deadline beyond what is currently stated herein. This means that your investment may continue to be held in escrow while the Company attempts to raise the Target Amount even after the Offering Deadline stated herein is reached. While you have the right to cancel your investment in the event the Company extends the Offering Deadline, if you choose to reconfirm your investment, your investment will not be accruing interest during this time and will simply be held until such time as the new Offering Deadline is reached without the Company receiving the Target Amount, at which time it will be returned to you without interest or deduction, or the Company receives the Target Amount, at which time it will be released to the Company to be used as set forth herein. Upon or shortly after the release of such funds to the Company, the Securities will be issued and distributed to you.

The Company may also end the Offering early.

If the Target Offering Amount is met after 21 calendar days, but before the Offering Deadline, the Company can end the Offering by providing notice to Investors at least 5 business days prior to the end of the Offering. This means your failure to participate in the Offering in a timely manner, may prevent you from being able to invest in this Offering â€“ it also means the Company may limit the amount of capital it can raise during the Offering by ending the Offering early.

The Company has the right to conduct multiple closings during the Offering.

If the Company meets certain terms and conditions, an intermediate close of the Offering can occur, which will allow the Company to draw down on half of the proceeds committed and captured in the Offering during the relevant period. The Company may choose to continue the Offering thereafter. Investors should be mindful that this means they can make multiple investment commitments in the Offering, which may be subject to different cancellation rights. For example, if an intermediate close occurs and later a material change occurs as the Offering continues,

Investors whose investment commitments were previously closed upon will not have the right to re-confirm their investment as it will be deemed to have been completed prior to the material change.

Risks Related to the Securities

The Securities will not be freely tradable under the Securities Act until one year from the initial purchase date. Although the securities may be tradable under federal securities law, state securities regulations may apply, and each Investor should consult with their attorney.

You should be aware of the long-term nature of this investment. There is not now and likely will not ever be a public market for the Securities. Because the Securities have not been registered under the Securities Act or under the securities laws of any state or foreign jurisdiction, the Securities have transfer restrictions and cannot be resold in the United States except pursuant to Rule 501 of Regulation CF. It is not currently contemplated that registration under the Securities Act or other securities laws will be affected. Limitations on the transfer of the Securities may also adversely affect the price that you might be able to obtain for the Securities in a private sale. Investors should be aware of the long-term nature of their investment in the Company. Each Investor in this Offering will be required to represent that they are purchasing the Securities for their own account, for investment purposes and not with a view to resale or distribution thereof.

Although Investors will have no right to voluntarily withdraw capital from the Company or withdraw their Securities, in certain circumstances they may be forced to withdraw from the Company.

An Investor may be forced to withdraw from the Company if the Company reasonably determines that it is necessary or desirable to do so in order to comply with applicable law or regulations, or to avoid a material adverse effect on the Company or the other holders of securities in the Company.

Investors will have no right to control the Company's operations.

The Investors will have no opportunity to control the day-to-day operations of the Company, including, without limitation, the investment and disposition decisions of the Portfolio Companies. In order to safeguard your limited liability for the liabilities and obligations of the Company, you must rely entirely on the Manager and Principals to conduct and manage the business affairs of the Company

Investors will not be entitled to any inspection or information rights other than those required by law.

Investors will not have the right to inspect the books and records of the Company or to receive financial or other information from the Company, other than as required by law. Other security holders of the Company may have such rights. Regulation CF requires only the provision of an annual report on Form C and no additional information. Additionally, there are numerous methods by which the Company can terminate annual report obligations, resulting in no information rights, contractual, statutory or otherwise, owed to Investors. This lack of information could put Investors at a disadvantage in general and with respect to other security holders, including certain security holders who have rights to periodic financial statements and updates from the Company such as quarterly unaudited financials, annual projections and budgets, and monthly progress reports, among other things.

The Company may never undergo a liquidity event and Investors may have to hold the Securities indefinitely.

The Company may never undergo a liquidity event such as a repurchase of the Securities by the Company, a sale of the Company or an initial public or coin offering. If a liquidity event does not occur, Investors could be left holding the Securities in perpetuity. The Securities have numerous transfer restrictions and will likely be highly illiquid, with no secondary market on which to sell them. The Securities have no voting rights or ability to direct the Company or its actions.

The Securities may be significantly diluted as a consequence of subsequent equity financings.

The Company's equity securities will be subject to dilution. The Company may issue additional equity to third-party financing sources in amounts that are uncertain at this time, and as a consequence holders of the Securities will be subject to dilution in an unpredictable amount. Such dilution may reduce the Investor's economic interests in the Company. The amount of additional financing needed by the Company will depend upon several contingencies not foreseen at the time of this Offering. Generally, additional financing (whether in the form of loans or the issuance of other securities) will be intended to provide the Company with enough capital to reach the next major corporate milestone. If the funds received in any additional financing are not sufficient to meet the Company's needs, the Company may have to raise additional capital at a price unfavorable to their existing investors, including the holders of the Securities. The availability of capital is at least partially a function of capital market conditions that are beyond the control of the Company. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to accurately predict the future capital requirements necessary for success or that additional funds will be available from any source. Failure to obtain financing on favorable terms could dilute or otherwise severely impair the value of the Securities.

The Securities may be substantially different from other equity securities offered or issued by the Company.

The Securities may be materially different from the other equity securities of the Company in many ways, including, but not limited to, liquidation preferences, dividend rights, or anti-dilution protection. The Securities may not provide the holders of such Securities with the same rights, preferences, protections, and other benefits or privileges provided to other investors of the Company.

In the event of the dissolution or bankruptcy of the Company, Investors will not be treated as debt holders and therefore are unlikely to recover any proceeds.

In the event of the dissolution or bankruptcy of the Company, the holders of the Securities will be entitled to distributions as described in the Securities. This means that such holders will only receive distributions once all of the creditors and more senior security holders, including any holders of preferred membership interests, have been paid in full. Neither holders of the Securities can be guaranteed any proceeds in the event of the dissolution or bankruptcy of the Company.

There is no guarantee of a return on an Investor's investment.

There is no assurance that an Investor will realize a return on their investment or that they will not lose their entire investment. For this reason, each Investor should read this Form C and all exhibits carefully and should consult with their attorney and business advisor prior to making any investment decision.

IN ADDITION TO THE RISKS LISTED ABOVE, RISKS AND UNCERTAINTIES NOT PRESENTLY KNOWN, OR WHICH WE CONSIDER IMMATERIAL AS OF THE DATE OF THIS FORM C, MAY ALSO HAVE AN ADVERSE EFFECT ON OUR BUSINESS AND RESULT IN THE TOTAL LOSS OF YOUR INVESTMENT.

Paraland Realms, Inc.("Company") is offering securities under Regulation CF, through PicMii Crowdfunding LLC ("PicMii"). PicMii is a FINRA/SEC registered funding portal and will receive cash compensation equal to 4.9% of the value of the securities sold through Regulation CF, a $2,500 listing fee, and a $2,000 fee deferred to after the first disbursement. The issuer is also responsible for reimbursing PicMii for the cost associated with escrow, payments and bad actor check costs. Investments made under Regulation CF involve a high degree of risk and those investors who cannot afford to lose their entire investment should not invest.

The Company plans to raise between $75,000 and $500,000 through an offering under Regulation CF. Specifically, if we reach the Minimum Raise Amount of $75,000, we may conduct the first of multiple or rolling closings of the offering early if we provide notice about the new offering deadline at least five business days prior to such new offering deadline (absent a material change that would require an extension of the offering and reconfirmation of the investment commitment). In the event The Company fails to reach the minimum offering amount of $75,000, any investments made under the offering will be cancelled and the investment funds will be returned to the investor.

*We reserve the right to change the above use of proceeds if management believes it is in the best interest of the Company.

How will the issuer complete the transaction and deliver securities to the investors?

Transfer Agent - In entering into an agreement on PicMii Crowdfunding′s Funding Portal to purchase securities, both investors and the Company must agree that a transfer agent, which keeps records of our outstanding Common Stock (the "Securities"), will issue digital Securities in the investor′s name (a paper certificate will not be printed) or that the Company is capable of maintaining investment records on their own. In this case, the company will be utilizing a transfer agent.

How can an investor cancel an investment commitment?

You may cancel an investment commitment for any reason until 48 hours prior to the deadline identified in the offering PicMii will notify investors when the target offering amount has been met. If the issuer reaches the target offering amount prior to the deadline identified in the offering materials, it may close the offering early if it provides notice about the new offering deadline at least five business days prior to such new offering deadline (absent a material change that would require an extension of the offering and reconfirmation of the investment commitment). PicMii Crowdfunding will notify investors when the target offering amount has been met. If an investor does not cancel an investment commitment before the 48-hour period prior to the offering deadline, the funds will be released to the issuer upon closing of the offering and the investor will receive securities in exchange for his or her investment. If an investor does not reconfirm his or her investment commitment after a material change is made to the offering, the investor's investment commitment will be cancelled, and the committed funds will be returned.

Can the company perform multiple closings or rolling closings for the offering?

If we reach the target offering amount prior to the offering deadline, we may conduct the first of multiple closings of the offering early, if we provide notice about the new offering deadline at least five business days prior (absent a material change that would require an extension of the offering and reconfirmation of the investment commitment). Thereafter, we may conduct additional closings until the offering deadline. We will issue Securities in connection with each closing. Oversubscriptions will be allocated on a first come, first served basis. Changes to the offering, material or otherwise, occurring after a closing, will only impact investments which have yet to be closed.

13. Do the securities offered have voting rights? Voting Rights and Proxy:

Common Stock in the Company does have voting rights, however in the subscription agreement, the Investor is giving their voting rights back to the CEO through proxy. Therefore, the Investor should understand that they are not entitled to vote as a result of the execution of the subscription agreement and the purchase of securities in the Company:

Voting Proxy. Each Subscriber shall appoint the Chief Executive Officer of the Company (the "CEO"), or his or her successor, as the Subscriber's true and lawful proxy and attorney, with the power to act alone and with full power of substitution, to, consistent with this instrument and on behalf of the Subscriber, (i) vote all Securities, (ii) give and receive notices and communications, (iii) execute any instrument or document that the CEO determines is necessary or appropriate in the exercise of its authority under this instrument, and (iv) take all actions necessary or appropriate in the judgment of the CEO for the accomplishment of the foregoing. The proxy and power granted by the Subscriber pursuant to this Section are coupled with an interest. Such proxy and power will be irrevocable. The proxy and power, so long as the Subscriber is an individual, will survive the death, incompetency and disability of the Subscriber and, so long as the Subscriber is an entity, will survive the merger or reorganization of the Subscriber or any other entity holding the Securities. However, the Proxy will terminate upon the closing of a firm-commitment underwritten public offering pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933 covering the offer and sale of Common Stock or the effectiveness of a registration statement under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 covering the Common Stock.

14. Are there any limitations on any voting or other rights identified above?

See Question 13.

15. How may the terms of the securities being offered be modified?

We may choose to modify the terms of the securities before the offering is completed. However, if the terms are modified, and we deem it to be a material change, we need to contact you and you will be given the opportunity to reconfirm your investment. Your reconfirmation must be completed within five business days of receipt of the notice of a material change, and if you do not reconfirm, your investment will be cancelled and your money will be returned to you.

Restrictions on Transfer of the Securities Offered

The securities being offered may not be transferred by any purchaser of such securities during the one-year period beginning when the securities were issued, unless such securities are transferred:

- to the issuer;
- to an accredited investor;
- as part of an offering registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission; or to a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, to a trust controlled by the purchaser, to a trust created for the benefit of a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, or in connection with the death or divorce of the purchaser or other similar circumstance.
- The term "accredited investor" means any person who comes within any of the categories set forth in Rule 501(a) of Regulation D, or who the seller reasonably believes comes within any of such categories, at the time of the sale of the securities to that person. The term "member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent" includes a child, stepchild, grandchild, parent, stepparent, grandparent, spouse or spousal equivalent, sibling, mother-in-law, father-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, brother-in-law, or sister-in-law of the purchaser, and includes adoptive relationships. The term "spousal equivalent" means a cohabitant occupying a relationship generally equivalent to that of a spouse.

Description of Issuer's Securities

16. Material terms of any outstanding securities or classes of securities of the issuer.

Class of Security	Amount Authorized	Amount Outstanding	Reserved Options	SAFEs	Voting Rights
Common Stock	20,000,000	19,500,000	N/A	N/A	Yes

Options, Warrants and Other Rights

17. How may the rights of the securities being offered be materially limited, diluted or qualified by the rights of any other class of securities?

Investors should understand the potential for dilution. The investor’s stake in a company could be diluted due to the company issuing additional shares. In other words, when the company issues more shares, the percentage of the company that you own will go down, even though the value of the company may go up. You will own a smaller piece of a larger company. This increase in number of shares outstanding could result from a stock offering (such as an initial public offering, another crowdfunding round, a venture capital round, angel investment), employees exercising stock options, or by conversion of certain instruments (e.g., convertible bonds, preferred shares or warrants) into stock. If the company decides to issue more shares, an investor could experience value dilution, with each share being worth less than before, and control dilution, with the total percentage an investor owns being less than before. There may also be earnings dilution, with a reduction in the amount earned per share (though this typically occurs only if the company offers dividends, and most early-stage companies are unlikely to offer dividends, preferring to invest any earnings into the company)

18. Are there any differences not reflected above between the securities being offered and each other class of security of the issuer?

Common Stock in the Company does have voting rights, however in the subscription agreement, the Investor is giving their voting rights back to the CEO through proxy. Therefore, the Investor should understand that they are not entitled to vote as a result of the execution of the subscription agreement and the purchase of securities in the Company:

Voting Proxy. Each Subscriber shall appoint the Chief Executive Officer of the Company (the "CEO"), or his or her successor, as the Subscriber's true and lawful proxy and attorney, with the power to act alone and with full power of substitution, to, consistent with this instrument and on behalf of the Subscriber, (i) vote all Securities, (ii) give and receive notices and communications, (iii) execute any instrument or document that the CEO determines is necessary or appropriate in the exercise of its authority under this instrument, and (iv) take all actions necessary or appropriate in the judgment of the CEO for the accomplishment of the foregoing. The proxy and power granted by the Subscriber pursuant to this Section are coupled with an interest. Such proxy and power will be irrevocable. The proxy and power, so long as the Subscriber is an individual, will survive the death, incompetency and disability of the Subscriber and, so long as the Subscriber is an entity, will survive the merger or reorganization of the Subscriber or any other entity holding the Securities. However, the Proxy will terminate upon the closing of a firm-commitment underwritten public offering pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933 covering the offer and sale of Common Stock or the effectiveness of a registration statement under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 covering the Common Stock.

19. How could the exercise of rights held by the principal owners identified in Question 5 above affect the purchasers of Securities being offered?

The holder of a majority of the voting rights in the company may make decisions with which you disagree, or that negatively affect the value of your investment in the company, and you will have no recourse to change those decisions. Your interests may conflict with the interests of other investors, and there is no guarantee that the company will develop in a way that is advantageous to you. For example, the majority shareholder may decide to issue additional shares to new investors, sell convertible debt instruments with beneficial conversion features, or make decisions that affect the tax treatment of the company in ways that may be unfavorable to you. Based on the risks described above, you may lose all or part of your investment in the securities that you purchase, and you may never see positive returns.

20. How are the securities being offered valued? Include examples of methods for how such securities may be valued by the issuer in the future, including during subsequent corporate actions.

The issuer is raising this Regulation Crowdfunding round at a $19,500,000 pre-money valuation.

The securities being offered are valued at the issuer’s discretion. An early-stage company typically sells its shares (or grants options over its shares) to its founders and early employees at a very low cash cost, because they are, in effect, putting their “sweat equity” into the company. When the company seeks cash investments from outside investors, like you, the new investors typically pay a much larger sum for their shares than the founders or earlier investors, which means that the cash value of your stake is immediately diluted because each share of the same type is worth the same amount, and you paid more for your shares than earlier investors did for theirs.

There are several ways to value a company, and none of them is perfect and all of them involve a certain degree of guesswork. Any of these methods, plus others, may be used to determine valuation in the future:

Liquidation Value – The amount for which the assets of the company can be sold, minus the liabilities owed, e.g., the assets of a bakery include the cake mixers, ingredients, baking tins, etc. The liabilities of a bakery include the cost of rent or mortgage on the bakery. However, this value does not reflect the potential value of a business, e.g., the value of the secret recipe. The value for most startups lies in their potential, as many early-stage companies do not have many assets.

Book Value – This is based on analysis of the company's financial statements, usually looking at the company's balance sheet as prepared by its accountants. However, the balance sheet only looks at costs (i.e., what was paid for the asset), and does not consider whether the asset has increased in value over time. In addition, some intangible assets, such as patents, trademarks or trade names, are very valuable but are not usually represented at their market value on the balance sheet.

Earnings Approach – This is based on what the investor will pay (the present value) for what the investor expects to obtain in the future (the future return), taking into account inflation, the lost opportunity to participate in other investments, the risk of not receiving the return. However, predictions of the future are uncertain and valuation of future returns is a best guess.

Different methods of valuation produce a different answer as to what your investment is worth. Typically, liquidation value and book value will produce a lower valuation than the earnings approach. However, the earnings approach is also most likely to be risky as it is based on many assumptions about the future, while liquidation value and book value are much more conservative.

Future investors (including people seeking to acquire the company) may value the company differently. They may use a different valuation method, or different assumptions about the company's business and its market. Different valuations may mean that the value assigned to your investment changes. It frequently happens that when a large institutional investor such as a venture capitalist makes an investment in a company, it values the company at a lower price than the initial investors did. If this happens, the value of the investment would go down.

21. What are the risks to purchasers of the securities relating to minority ownership in the issuer?

The company's Certificate of Incorporation or Bylaws can be amended by the holders of a majority of the issued and outstanding shares of the Company. As minority owners, the crowdfunding investors are subject to the decisions made by the majority owners. The issued and outstanding shares of common stock give management voting control of the company. As a minority owner, you may be outvoted on issues that impact your investment, such as, among other things: (a) the liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the company, or effecting any merger or consolidation; (b) amendment of any provision of the Certificate of Incorporation or Bylaws; (c) creation and issuance of other securities having rights, preferences or privileges senior to the common stock sold to the crowdfunding investors, or increasing the authorized number of shares of stock of the company; or (d) creation of any debt security.

22. What are the risks to purchasers associated with corporate actions including:

1. Additional issuances of securities
2. Issuer repurchases of securities
3. A sale of the issuer or of assets of the issuer
4. Transactions with related parties

The authorization and issuance of additional shares of the company's common stock will dilute the ownership of the crowdfunding investors. As a result, if the company achieves profitable operations in the future, its net income per share will be reduced because of dilution, and the market price of the company's common stock, if there is a market price, could decline as a result of the additional issuances of securities. If the company repurchases securities, so that the above risk is mitigated, and there are fewer shares of common stock outstanding, the company may not have enough cash available for marketing expenses, growth, or operating expenses to reach our goals. If we do not have enough cash to operate and grow, we anticipate the market price of our securities would decline. A sale of the company or of all of the assets of the company may result in an entire loss of your investment. We cannot predict the market value of the company or its assets, and the proceeds of a sale may not be cash, but instead, unmarketable securities, or an assumption of liabilities. It is unlikely that in the near term, a sale would result in a premium that is significant enough over book value to generate a return to our investors. We may need to negotiate with a related party for additional capital. No assurance can be given that such funds will be available or, if available, will be on commercially reasonable terms satisfactory to us. Even if such financing is available, it may be on terms that are materially averse to your interests with respect to dilution of book value, dividend preferences, liquidation preferences, or other terms.

23. Material terms of any indebtedness of the issuer:

The Company has no outstanding debt.

24. What other exempt offerings has the Company conducted within the past three years?

The Company has not conducted any raises within the previous three years.

25. Was or is the issuer or any entities controlled by or under common control with the issuer a party to any transaction since the beginning of the issuer's last fiscal year, or any currently proposed transaction, where the amount involved exceeds five percent of the aggregate amount of capital raised by the issuer in reliance on Section 4(a)(6) of the Securities Act during the preceding 12-month period, including the amount the issuer seeks to raise in the current offering, in which any of the following persons had or is to have a direct or indirect material interest:

1. Any director or officer of the issuer;

2. Any person who is, as of the most recent practicable date, the beneficial owner of 20 percent or more of the issuer's outstanding voting equity securities, calculated on the basis of voting power;
3. If the issuer was incorporated or organized within the past three years, any promoter of the issuer; or
4. Any immediate family members of any of the foregoing persons.

The Company's Chief Financial Officer is the spouse of the Chief Executive Officer and holds no equity in the Company. In September 2025 the founder bought a computer as a personal gift to the Chief Financial Officer, with no expectation of return. The purchase was charged to the Company credit card, which the founder settled personally. The computer belongs to the Chief Financial Officer and is not a Company asset. The Company also paid costs of a vehicle and a phone owned by the founder. These items are used partly for Company activities; the business portion, based on management's estimate of use (about 10% for the computer, 25% for the vehicle and 50% for the phone), is expensed and the remainder is treated as a distribution.

No salary, reimbursements or loans were paid to officers or family members in the periods presented. The Chief Executive Officer personally owns the copyrights in the Paraland works. Written, royalty-free permission has allowed the Company to produce, distribute, license and earn revenue from the Paraland works, including the pilot, since the Company was formed, and continues until a formal copyright transfer is completed. After a successful capital raise, the Chief Executive Officer intends to transfer the copyrights to the Company without compensation, subject to a right to regain them if the Company ceases to exist. No transfer has been completed.

Financial Condition of the Issuer

26. Does the issuer have an operating history?

No.

27. Describe the financial condition of the issuer, including, to the extent material, liquidity, capital resources and historical results of operations.

Paraland Realms, Inc. is a pre-seed entertainment company and animation studio developing an animated series, a virtual-reality game, and a toy game set within a shared fantasy world. The company has not yet generated revenue and remains in the early stages of development. For the year ended December 31, 2025, the company reported a net loss of $30,998.58, compared to a net loss of $3,844.11 for the period from inception on June 20, 2024, through December 31, 2024. Operating expenses increased to $32,284.02 in 2025, primarily driven by production costs for the pilot episode, travel and events, marketing and promotion, and legal and intellectual property registration fees.

As of December 31, 2025, Paraland Realms reported total assets of $3,865.36, consisting of $2,030.25 in cash and $1,835.11 in net equipment. This compares to total assets of $5,656.85 at the end of 2024. Total liabilities decreased from $1,539.45 in 2024 to $800.00 in 2025, consisting entirely of accrued franchise taxes at year-end. The company reported total member's equity of $3,065.36, down from $4,117.40 in 2024, primarily due to the net loss incurred during the year. The company has financed its operations through owner contributions, which totaled $34,586.29 during 2025, in addition to amounts paid directly by the owner on the company's behalf.

The company's statement of cash flows reflects $8,890.52 in net cash used in operating activities during 2025, compared to $3,679.23 during the 2024 period. Cash decreased by $790.52 during 2025, leaving the company with $2,030.25 in cash at year-end. The financial statements indicate that the company remains dependent on external funding to support ongoing operations. Management has identified a proposed Regulation Crowdfunding offering, a potential subsequent private placement under Regulation D, and continued owner funding as its intended sources of capital. However, the accountant's report and the notes to the financial statements identify substantial doubt about the company's ability to continue as a going concern for one year after the financial statements are issued if additional funding cannot be secured.

For additional information regarding the issuer's financials, please review Exhibit A.*
